LET'S GET STARTED 😊

Necessity is the master of invention!

After emailing everyone last week I spent some time reflecting and wondering how I would feel if my parent lived in a facility where I was not able to see them for a period of time. Would I trust caregivers to care for them if I couldn't see what was happening? Would I trust the caregivers to love them as much as I would? Are they safe? What is my role now?

With that in mind (and maybe some prompting from one of you 😊) I decided to try a weekly newsletter from our house to yours to keep everyone updated, not only on the facts of what we are doing, but also to show you some of the fun things we are doing to keep life at Odd Fellows as normal as we can.

Thank you for trusting us through this journey!

WHAT'S NEW THIS WEEK

Out of an abundance of caution, and at the generosity of our AMAZING community, our residents have begun wearing face masks when they are out of their rooms. It's been a treat seeing all of the different patterns and designs. They are using washable face masks donated to our facility by numerous different individuals in the community. Within 12 hours of asking our community for help with facemasks, we had 220 on site. Thank you Walla Walla!!

SOCIAL DISTANCING

Our Activities Department has gotten creative. While we can't have big group activities, we can have small, socially distanced activities. Below is our revised Chair Exercise Class. One of our most popular, and most missed, activities is chair exercise. Our creative Activities Team found a way to make it happen and keep everyone safe. Enter . . .Hallway Exercise.

FUN THINGS ARE COMING UP

- More fun activities are in the works
- Hallway Bingo
- Cinco de Mayo
- Mother's Day is coming – stay tuned
- Mask Fashion Show?
- Send me ideas of fun things we can do inside
