

ASSISTED LIVING FACILITIES (ALF)

Disclosure of Services Required by RCW 18.20.300

The assisted living facility licensee shall disclose to the residents, the residents' legal representative if any, and if not, the residents' representative if any, and to interested consumers upon request, the scope of care and services offered, using the form developed and provided by the department, in addition to any supplemental information that may be provided by the licensee.

This disclosure form provides initial general information about our assisted living facility, and allows you to compare care services of different assisted living facilities. Prior to moving in, you should visit an assisted living facility to ask how they will assist you with your unique needs and preferences.

Assisted living facilities may change the services that are available and the charges for these services, by providing thirty days advance notice to residents. However, an assisted living facility must give you ninety days advance notice of any voluntary decrease in services that would affect your decision as to whether you would want to move to a different location or require you to move out.

Who may live in an assisted living facility?

- No assisted living facility is permitted to provide continuing services to you if you need to have a registered nurse frequently evaluate your condition. However, if you require frequent nursing evaluation and we can meet your needs, you may be allowed to remain in the assisted living facility, when;
 - You have a short term illness that is expected to last less than fourteen days, or
 - You are receiving hospice services.
- The assisted living facility may not be able to serve you if you need services beyond those disclosed on this form.

You may need to move out when we cannot meet your needs and moving out is necessary for your welfare. However, each assisted living facility must attempt to "reasonably accommodate" your needs before it can require you to move out.

Per chapter 388-78A-2020, "Reasonable accommodation" and "reasonably accommodate" have the meaning given in federal and state antidiscrimination laws and regulations which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (1) Reasonable accommodation means that the assisted living facility must:
 - (a) Not impose admission criteria that excludes individuals unless the criteria is necessary for the provision of assisted living facility services;
 - (b) Make reasonable modification to its policies, practices or procedures if the modifications are necessary to accommodate the needs of the resident;
 - (c) Provide additional aids and services to the resident.
- (2) Reasonable accommodations are not required if:
 - (a) The resident or individual applying for admission presents a significant risk to the health or safety of others that cannot be eliminated by the reasonable accommodation;
 - (b) The reasonable accommodations would fundamentally alter the nature of the services provided by the assisted living facility; or
 - (c) The reasonable accommodations would cause an undue burden, meaning a significant financial or administrative burden.

Notification of increased service which requires a 30 day notice, is waived in the event a resident has an unanticipated, unplanned, and substantial condition that requires an immediate change in care services that cannot meet the 30-day notification requirement under RCW 70.129.060(4).

1. Services / Care

All assisted living facilities must provide the care and services listed below, according to what you have agreed to in your negotiated service agreement.

A. Activities: All assisted living facilities must help you arrange social, recreational, religious or other activities in the assisted living facility and in the community. Washington State law, RCW 70.129.030(4), requires the assisted living facility to inform each individual, or their representative, in writing, of the services, items and activities customarily available in the facility or arranged for by the facility as permitted by the facility's license. Contact the assisted living facility for this information if not already provided.

- Additional activities / comments:

Scheduled activities are posted on the Activities Calendars and reader boards found throughout the Washington Odd Fellows Home, as well as on various posters promoting specific events.

B. Food and Diets: All assisted living facilities must provide three meals per day, nutritious snacks, and prescribed general low sodium diets, general diabetic diets, and mechanical soft diets. Additionally, we are not required but have chosen to provide the following diets:

- | Yes | No | |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | 1. Calorie controlled diets for people with diabetes |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | 2. Puree diets |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | 3. Additional dietary services or comments: |

The Washington Odd Fellows Home provides nutritional supplements for those residents who need additional nutrition. In addition, a refrigerator or microwave oven is provided for residents who are assessed to be able to appropriately use them.

Calorie controlled diets can be approximated through the use of portion size; however, the resident must actively participate and cooperate for this to be successful.

The Washington Odd Fellows Home does not provide room service meals. You must be willing and able to go to the Dining Room at least twice a day for meals.

We can provide a sick tray to your room in the event of a short illness; however, room service meals are not available on a routine basis.

C. Arranging Health Care Appointments: All assisted living facilities must help you arrange health care appointments and remind you of them, as necessary.

- Additionally, the facility will provide the following optional services (or clarifying comments):

The Washington Odd Fellows Home provides transportation to local medical appointments.

D. Coordinating Health Care Services: All assisted living facilities must coordinate services you receive from health care providers in the community with the services the assisted living facility provides to you, if you agree.

- Additionally, the facility will provide the following optional services (or clarifying comments):

The Washington Odd Fellows Home helps coordinate services such as:

Nursing care

Physical Therapy

10. Services Related to Smoking

The facility:

Yes No

- A. Maintains a smoke-free community.
 B. Will permit smoking in designated outside areas consistent with Initiative 901 as specified in the resident's negotiated service agreement

11. Services Related to Pets

Pets allowed by the assisted living facility must have regular veterinarian examinations and immunizations, appropriate for the species, and must be free of diseases transmittable to humans.

The facility:

- A. Does not permit pets.
 B. Permit you to have pets under the following conditions.

Service animals are defined as dogs that are individually trained to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Examples of such work or tasks include guiding people who are blind, alerting people who are deaf, pulling a wheelchair, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, calming a person with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) during an anxiety attack, or performing other duties. Service animals are working animals, not pets. The work or task a dog has been trained to provide must be directly related to the person's disability. Dogs whose sole function is to provide comfort or emotional support do not qualify as service animals under the ADA.

1. Under the ADA, service animals must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the individual must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls.

2. A resident with a service animal will be asked to remove his service animal from the premises under the following conditions:

- the dog is out of control and the handler does not take effective action to control it
- the dog is not housebroken.

3. The required fee to be paid by residents with pets is waived for service animals. However, the resident is financially responsible for any damage caused by himself or his service animal.

4. The Washington Odd Fellows Home or its staff are not responsible for the care or food for a service animal.

12. Services Related to End-Of-Life Care

- The facility will support any advanced directives you may have or choices you may make regarding end-of-life decisions.
- The facility may not support all your advanced directives (explain):

13. Payments

Washington State law, RCW 70.129.030(4), requires the assisted living facility to inform each individual, or their representative, in writing, of the charges for services, items and activities customarily available in the facility or arranged for by the facility including charges for services, items, and activities not covered by the facility's basic per diem rate. Contact the assisted living facility for this information if not already provided.

It is important to note that because each assisted living facility structures its pricing differently, there may be additional charges associated with any service the assisted living facility provides or makes available.

14. "Bed Hold" Services

If you are a Medicaid resident and you need to be in a hospital, nursing home, or other rehabilitation facility or are otherwise away from our facility, we will hold your bed for you if you are likely to return to the facility and are eligible for a Medicaid covered bed hold for a period of up to 20 days:

If you are a private pay resident, the facility may choose whether or not to hold your bed during an absence.

When a resident is admitted to the hospital from the TLC, full rate is charged to hold their existing room. Residents or their families may elect to pay to hold the room while the resident is out of the facility.

For Medicaid residents, the State will pay to hold the room for 20 days provided the resident is able to return to the TLC after that period of time.

After the 20 days of Medicaid coverage has been exhausted, the cost of the hold-room rate becomes the obligation of the resident or family.

If residents are admitted to our Care Center during illness or injury, one-half rate of the usual rate is charged to hold their existing TLC room. A room can be held at 1/2 rate for a maximum of three months.

15. Medicaid Support

The facility:

- A. Does not accept Medicaid as a source of payment.
- B. Will accept Medicaid payments for any resident.
The facility has the following Medicaid contracts:
 - Assisted Living Services (ALS)
 - Adult Residential Care (ARC)
 - Enhanced Adult Residential Care (EARC)
- C. Will accept Medicaid payments only under the following conditions:

16. Fire Protection Services

The facility will have the following:

- A. Fire sprinklers throughout, in all resident and non-resident areas.
- B. Fire sprinklers in some, but not all areas (explain):
- C. No fire sprinklers.

17. Security Services

The facility will have the following security service to help protect residents with cognitive impairments and wandering behaviors:

Check applicable response:

- A. Restricted use of exit doors in a designated portion of the building designed to serve residents with dementia.
- B. Restricted use of exit doors throughout the building.
- C. Outside area available with restricted egress.
- D. Other protective features (explain):

The Washington Odd Fellows Home Assisted Living cannot admit or retain any resident who exhibits exit-seeking wandering behavior.

18. Scope of Licensed Services

This facility:

- Currently has an assisted living facility license for all resident rooms in the building.
- Does not currently have an assisted living facility license for all resident / tenant rooms in this building.
 - The room you will reside in is a licensed room that meets all licensing requirements.
 - The room you will reside in meets all contracted residential care services regulations.
 - The room you will reside in has exemptions to the room building requirements which include (explain approved exemption):

The number of residents receiving assisted living services cannot exceed the number of licensed beds.

- Oxygen services provided by the facility as follows (explain):
The Washington Odd Fellows Home may assist residents with coordinating and maintaining oxygen services.
- Hearing aid assistance consisting of (explain):
The Washington Odd Fellows Home may assist in coordinating and maintaining services, and may assist with managing daily wear of appliances.
