COVID STATUS

TLC Residents remain health and well. We do have one positive staff member, but no exposure to residents.

Our East & West Care Center remain in quarantine at this time.

Please check our website for the most up-to-date information:

KEEPING YOU “IN THE KNOW”

- Positive employee: During our routine testing today we identified an asymptomatic COVID positive employee. The employee is a fill in employee who has not worked for some time so no quarantining will be needed in this case.
- Visitation: At the request of the Walla Walla County Department of Health, we are continuing to advise against visitation. That said, we cannot deny you access to your family members. When you come and ring the doorbell, we advise you that we are discouraging visitation, but if you decide you’d like to visit anyway our staff will open the door for you. Please pay attention to your physical symptoms when deciding whether or not to visit. Please refrain from visiting if you have any potential covid symptoms.
- Screening: Our new kiosk is up and working. Please feel free to give it a try. When you enter our building, in the vestibule you will see a stand to your right. Walk up to the device mounted there and follow the instructions. The first time you use it, you will have to enter your name and phone number. But thereafter the device will recognize who you are and just proceed with temperature taking and screening questions. We continue to have the in-person screening station in the lobby if you prefer to use that.

WE'VE BEEN BUSY!

CLOSING PONDERANCE . . .

By now you know that I'm a mom (kinda proud of that job title 😊). But what you might not know is that when I was studying to be a Social Worker, my area of focus was children. So, it shouldn't surprise anyone that so many of my life lessons come from watching children. This week I experienced yet another. At my daughter's high school, one of the seniors organized a peaceful protest joining in the "Free my Face" movement. While I wholeheartedly believe that masks work and should be used, I was proud of this young lady. She found something she believed strongly in and wasn't afraid to speak out against it. She stood firm, even when she was faced with consequences for her decision. But what I admired most was how she did it. She made sure that the messages spoken were positive, that the teens involved stayed respectful and that there were no ill feelings left between those that supported the movement and those that didn't. Watching this in action spoke to my heart. Why can't adults have the same respect when they don't agree. Why do we resort to spouting hate and anger? Just because it isn't your idea doesn't make it wrong. This middle-aged old lady definitely learned a lesson this week from those young uns' Kari
